For mothers, fathers, and caregivers!

Home Visits with You & Your Child

During these visits, we share age-appropriate child development information with you, share with you ideas for helping your child to grow, address your parenting concerns and engage your family in activities that provide meaningful parent-child interaction.

Group Meetings

Family-oriented group meetings provide opportunities to share information about parenting issues and child development. Parents learn from each other and support each other. Parents and children do fun activities together!

Screening

Periodic developmental, health, vision and hearing screening increases your understanding of your child's development. Regular review of each child's developmental progress identifies their strengths and abilities, and can identify areas of concern that may require referral for follow-up services to keep your child growing strong and thriving!

All of our services are free of charge.
